CLEANING SERVICE, INC.

"Most of us, in some way, struggle with fear—instinctually tensing against it or becoming overwhelmed by it. Shifting our relationship with fear is central to the evolution of consciousness. While fear is a natural, intelligent emotion, when it goes into overdrive, we are in a trance that contracts our body, heart, and mind. Our resistance to fear sustains this trance and perpetuates our suffering. As we learn to attend to fear with mindfulness and care, its grip loosens, and we reconnect with our full aliveness, wisdom, and love."

Our very dear Client,
More than ever, I hold you in my heart with love and tenderness.

How am I dealing with the present times?

Day by day; being present as much as I can to what I am focusing my attention on, vigilant of the thoughts that arise, and encouraging the ones that align with my 2021 vision of a life full of love, joy, peace, abundance, and freedom, for all of us.

When an emotion arises that is not aligned with my vision, I see the thought that brought it up and change it. Or, I say the name of the feeling and then I say: "Let Go" ...and it magically clears up.

Practice, practice, practice.

I keep working, keep going ahead, open to possibility, creation, and opportunity.

I have many families depending on my determination to keep bringing jobs to them and we are DEEPLY GRATEFUL, again and again for your support and loyalty.

As we march into 2021, we maintain our deep commitment to deliver to you a Consistent High-Quality Cleaning and the Outstanding Customer Service you deserve.

Please accept a huge tender hug full of JOY and PEACE that envelopes and relaxes you, I certainly appreciate getting one myself.

Above all, We are One and Many. We are the Ocean and the Drop. And I see YOU!

I love you all.
