CLEANING SERVICE, INC.

To sum up the meditative process, you have to break the habit of being yourself and reinvent a new self; lose your mind and create a new one; prune synaptic connections and nurture new ones; unmemorize past emotions and recondition the body to a new mind and emotions, and let go of the past and create a new future.

Our very dear Client,
I trust your heart is joyful today and always.

The more I am awake and present the more I enjoy life!

I embrace reinventing myself with passion, and find it very stimulating, as this process keeps me fully alive and renews my energy every day.

At Lilly's, we also embrace with passion the constant enhancement of our Policies and Procedures. Our workforce is constantly trained and cross-trained as well, so we keep our methods of working fresh and at hand. Also, in doing this, we reinforce the synaptic connections in our brains that are related to delivering, consistent and excellent customer service with the highest quality cleaning service which is our motto of operating.

We make mistakes, learn from them, and keep improving; we could say we "recondition the body to a new mind". I love my people. They are honest, trustworthy workers. We are accountable for our results as we "create a new future" for our community, and that includes you as well.

From our hearts to yours...THANK YOU for being part of this living process and supporting our employees' jobs and personal growth.

I am holding you with love, joy, and an open heart.

Above all, We are One and Many. We are the Ocean and the Drop. And I see YOU!

I love you all.
